The Ancient Oak's Activity:
Send me a secret scent message

with artist
Sorrel Muggridge

I live at the edge of the woods near the Sainsbury Centre.
You can visit me in the sculpture park, even when the gallery is closed.
Did you know that trees and plants use smells to help them communicate?
Join in by making your own perfume.

Find a small bucket or bowl

Collect nice smelling petals and leaves
(with your adult's permission)

Add water to your collection and stir it

Use a paint brush to share your sweet-smelling brew with your garden

Tree trunks, clay flower pots and even fences can love a splash of natural scent!

Now you can leave magical messages

Write words or draw pictures- they will gradually disappear
but the garden will remember your messages

What do your messages say? Are they secret?

What do you think a tree would say if it could speak like us?
